THE WHITEWATER WAGONS.

Orders received for these WAGONS and all kinds of Agricultural Machinery.

Everything fully guaranteed. Call and examine.

MATERIAL.

THE construction of this WAGON is the result of the experience that we have gathered in thirty years in this line of manufacture. The timber and iron are the best money will buy, and by comparison it will appear that there is more iron and better iron work on it than on any other wagon that we have yet seen. The peculiar construction of the thimble skein, which we manufacture ourselves of the finest iron, enables us to warrant it to run with one-fifth lighter draft than any wagon made with the ordinary "trade" skein. This is a point that should be considered by purchasers of wagons. Every part is warranted free from defect, and our agents in all points are instructed to be very careful to make the warranty good.

PRICE.

THE Whitewater is not a low priced wagon, and cannot compete in respect to price with the cheap class of work found in every market. It is a first-class article offered as low as the quality of work and material can be produced for with a fair living profit. It is the privilege of every free American citizen to pay his money and take his choice. Many of our best customers are those who have formerly used cheap wagons.

PREMIUMS.

RECENT premiums received by the Whitewater Wagons are as follows:

In 1876, at the Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia, they received the first and only premium awarded to the classes of "Plantation" Wagons and "Freight" Wagons. They were the only wagons that received two awards.

At the well-known contest open to all Manufacturers of wagons at the Great St. Louis Exposition and Fair of 1877, they received two separate first premiums, all that were offered by the Association, no other wagon receiving anything whatever.

March 15, 1878.

OGDEN.

WEBER COUNTY was first visited (in the interest of the Church of Latter-day Saints) by Captain James Brown, on the 6th day of January, 1848, who found one Miles M. Goodyear with a few mountaineers and half-breed Indians, occupying a few log houses in a Picket Fort near the Weber river and about eighty rods northeast of the sand mound, which stands on the north side of said river.

Captain Brown immediately entered into negotiations with Mr. Goodyear, purchased his land claims and improvements for the sum of three thousand dollars, and in the fall of the same year, with his family, located on the land.

The first branch of the above Church, named the Weber branch, was organized in this County, March 5th, 1850, and Lorin Farr was appointed President. It was organized as a Ward the following day, and Isaac Clark was appointed Bishop, Daniel Birch Teacher, and Bryan W. Nolan, Clerk. In February, 1850, the first military company was organized, with Cyrus C. Canfield Captain, and Francello Durfee First Lieutenant.

On the 26th day of January, 1851, the "Weber Stake of Zion" was organized, with Lorin Farr President and Charles R. Dana and David B. Dillie Counselors. At this time the Weber branch received the name of OGDEN, and it was deemed necessary to organize it into two wards. Isaac Clark was made Bishop of the first, and James G. Browning and James Brown were appointed his Counselors; Erastus Bingham Sen., was appointed Bishop of the second Ward, and Chas. Hubbard and Stephen Parry, his Counselors.

On February 6th, 1851, the Territorial Legislature passed an ordinance incorporating Ogden City, and on the 23d day of October, 1852, an election was held which resulted in the election of Lorin Farr, Mayor; Charles R. Dana, Erastus Bingham, Francello Durfee and James G. Browning. Aldermen; Levi Murdock, Samuel Stickney, John Shaw, B. W. Nolan, D. B. Dillie, Ithamer Sprague, Daniel Burch, Jonathan Browning, James Lake, James Brown, Jos. Grover and F. Dempsey, Counselors.

In 1850, Lorin Farr, Esq., built the first grist mill and the first saw mill in this county. They were located on what is now known as the "Old Mill Site," northeast of the city proper, and about one and-a-half miles from Ogden canyon. The former now furnished facilities for flouring the grain, and saved the citizens much time, labor and exposure in traveling to a greater distance to obtain a grist, while the latter furnished them with lumber for building and other purposes.

Mr. Farr continued in the Mayoralty of Ogden from the above-mentioned date to the present time, excepting three terms held by Mr. L. J. Herrick.

The population of Ogden had now swelled considerably, both by natural increase and by emigration from other parts. Many more farms were opened, some of them at a considerable distance from the dwellings of the owners. The male portion of the people being much of the time engaged in the field, while the females and children remained at home, it was determined to build a Spanish wall around the city, (as a defense) with a gate on each side, and port-holes at convenient distances. This work afforded a safeguard against any sudden surprise by the vigilant and still hostile Indian; it at the same time furnished labor and the means of procuring subsistence for many individuals who otherwise would, at that period, have been out of employ. The wall, being built by taxation, probably cost about $40,000.

A General Banking Business Transacted by GUTHRIE & Co.

The uniformly kind policy pursued by the old and new settlers towards the aborigines was not without its good effects on the minds of the latter; they became reconciled to their situation, and the former realized that it was better and cheaper to feed than to fight them, and it is now very rare that depredations are committed by the red man upon his white neighbor in this section of the country.

In 1859 the Ogden canyon road was built, at an immense labor and expense, considering the limited population. It cost about $50,000. It is about seven miles in length, and opens into another beautiful little valley, (Ogden) which is now becoming thickly settled by a thriving community. This road shortens the distance between Ogden and Bear Lake valley about fifty miles. The Ogden river, which runs through the canyon, sometimes, in the spring of the year, rises very high, in consequence of which the company who own the road have at various times sustained heavy losses by their bridges and much of the road being swept away by floods.

This canyon opens into a number of other smaller canyons and ravines, from which our citizens obtained wood for fuel when nearly every other resource seemed to be closed against them.

A number of saw-mills have been built at different points up this road, and a great quantity of good lumber has been got out each year, which has aided materially to build up our city, and to bring it to its present thriving condition.

Other public buildings being too small to answer the requirements of public worship on the Sabbath, in 1857 the Tabernacle was built on the Public Square, on the west side of Main Street, near the north end of the city. It is 100 feet by 50 feet outside, and will comfortably seat two thousand people.

In the same year the canal on the bench was taken out of the Ogden river, for irrigation and other purposes. It is about two miles in length, and cost $50,000. The canal for irrigating the lower part of the city was taken out of the Weber, in 1852, and is about seven miles in length.

On the 10th of March, 1858, the first brigade of the Weber County Militia was organized, with two regiments. C. W. West, Brigadier General; Daniel Gamble, Brigade-Adjutant; Col. W. Thompson, Quartermaster; David Moore, Col. 1st Regiment; B. F. Cummings, Col. 2d Regiment.

The new grist mill of Mr. Farr was built in 1862, and the Weber mill, Gen. West & Co., in 1866.

The woolen mills of Randall, Pugsley & Co. were built in 1867, and cost $60,000.

On the 3d of March, 1869, the first locomotive steamed into this city. We quote the following from a writer of that date who thus speaks of the celebration:

"At 11 o'clock this a. m., the U. P. R. R. track layers hove in sight of this city, and from that time continued their march with great rapidity. The citizens exhibited the liveliest enthusiasm, and testified the liveliest joy, as, from the high bluffs and every commanding elevation, they feasted their eyes and ears with the sight and sound of the long-expected and anxiously looked-for fiery steed. Onward and still onward they came, and thousands and thousands of our citizens, both from here and the adjoining settlements, decked in their holiday attire, gave a hearty welcome to the advent of the nation's great highway into this city.

"About half-past 2 p. m., they steamed into Ogden, when Col. Daniel Gamble, with true Hibernian enthusiasm, ran up the first flag, which, while gradually floating in the breeze, was soon followed by numerous others. And here let me observe that never, to my mind, did the flags of our Union wave more gracefully, or more proudly, than on this auspicious occasion. Our excellent military brass band was soon out, and, under the able leadership of Captain William Pugh, sent forth the soul-enlivening strains of rich music, which, with a salute from Captain T. S. Wadsworth's artillery, gave the preliminary welcome to the iron horse.

"At four o'clock a public stand was erected alongside the track.

At five o'clock a procession was formed under the direction of the committee of arrangements, (Col. Wm. N. Fife, Captain Joseph Parry and Francis A. Brown, Esqs.,) which consisted of the Mayor, members of the City Council, the various schools, under the superintendence of their respective teachers, headed by the band, bearing banners, with numerous appropriate mottoes, among which the following was conspicuous: 'Hail to the Highway of Nations! Utah bids you welcome!'

"Pedestrians, equestrians, and crowded vehicles now thronged the festive scene. Wadsworth's artillery having arrived, a salute of twenty-one guns was fired, whose deafening echoes vibrated through the mountains, hills and vales.

"At half-past five o'clock the rails were laid to a point in a line with the Tithing office street, five blocks north into the city. On the stand were Hons. F. D. Richards, L. Farr, A. F. Farr, Colonels D. Gamble, W. Thompson, W. N. Fife, Major S. M. Blair, Captains Joseph Parry, William Clayton, Major Pike, A. Miner, F. S. Richards, Joseph Hall, Gilbert Belnap, J. McGaw, F. A. Brown, Esqs., Colonel J. C. Little, D. B. Warren and — Johnson, Esqs., and others who were invited but whose names I did not learn."

The vast audience being called to order by Hon. L. Farr, Mayor of Ogden City, Hon. F. D. Richards was introduced, who delivered an eloquent and soul-stirring address.

Three cheers for the great highway were then proposed and given, when the wildest enthusiasm and demonstrations of joy prevailed, and loud shouts rent the air. Amid the alternate pealings of the artillery's thunder, the music of the band and the long-continued, shrill whistling of the three engines, the waving of hats, kerchiefs and other demonstrations of pleasure, rendered the occasion such as will not soon be forgotten by those present, Addresses were also delivered by Hon. L. Farr, Colonel J. C. Little, Major Blair, and A. Miner, Esq.

On the 17th of May, of the same year, near the Weber river, the ground was first broken for the Utah Central railroad. There were President Geo. A. Smith dedicated the ground for the road by prayer.

The President then removed the first sod, and was followed by Presidents Geo. A. Smith and D. H. Wells, W. Jennings, Esq. and citizens. The road was completed and opened for travel Jan. 10th, 1870.

The Ogden Iron Manufacturing Company was organized in 1873, with headquarters at Milwaukee, Wis., which were since removed to this city. The company expended about $120,000 on the erection of the works. The enterprise resulted in a failure, those who invested in it losing their money, greatly discouraging the community. They were sold by virtue of a trustee deed by Mr. T. J. Stayner, on the 22d day of November, 1877, and were bidden in by the bondholders. We will have more to say in reference to these works hereafter; they have changed hands and bid fair to become a great success.

On the 3d of October, 1875, President U. S. Grant arrived at this city on his brief visit to Utah.

Ogden City is located at the Western base of the Wasatch range of mountains, about 12 miles East of the Great Salt Lake. We are on the great National Highway between Omaha and San Francisco, and are a distance from the former place, West 1033 miles, and from the latter place about 882 miles East. We form the Junction of the Union Pacific, Central Pacific, Utah Central and Utah Northern Railroads. The distance from Ogden to Salt Lake City per rail is about 37 miles; from Ogden to Franklin, Idaho, the

A SOLE 'EM SUBJECT.

"Two SOULS with but a single thought," is a very beautiful expression of unity, but two (shoddy) SOLES with but a single row of pegs makes a miserably poor pair of shoes. "My SOUL'S in arms and eager for the" banishment of such worthless SOLES from these "valleys of the mountains."

The dealer in shoddy boots and shoes, as he hands those articles to a purchaser, grinningly remarks: "SOLD again," and the wearer soon realizes that HE has indeed been "SOLD again," as he is forced to make early and frequent visits to the cobblers' to have the shoes SOLED again.

This community is remarkable for the SOLi d men and women it contains--good and worthy SOULS, the SOLES of whose feet wearily trod the SOLitary, trackless prairies to find a resting place in Utah. Such whole-SOULED people should wear good SOLid SOLES, and I SOLEmly assert that my standarū screw fastened Boots and Shoes are "just the thing."

present terminus of the U. N. R. R., about 80 miles. There is a daily mail service on each of the above roads. We are situated between two streams—the Ogden and Weber rivers; the site here for railroads, junctions and depots is excellent, in fact, as one of the railroad magnates once said “Nature made Ogden for a Junction.” There has been much contention, procrastination and scheming as to where the precise location should be. But after traveling East and West, to Bonneville, Corinne, Promontory, etc., the vexed question was settled by planting the centre stake here, and as one gentleman remarked: “It is Ogden or bust.” With the railroad termini, the iron works in full blast, the development of the mineral resources of our mountains, Ogden City is destined to become a manufacturing and commercial centre of the West.

MOUND FORT.—This place and Lynne are portions of Ogden, being within the corporate limits and covered by the same charter. They constitute a ward and have an Alderman in the City Council. They are divided from the city proper by Ogden river. The citizens of the former, 225 in number, are considerably scattered and the village proper is small, but it contains a large flouring mill. The people, who are farmers, first settled it in 1855.

LYNNE.—(Bingham's Fort), located three miles a little northwest of this place, was first settled in 1855. At that time it was densely populated, and contained several mercantile houses, which traded largely in hides of oxen, cows, horses and wolves, who died of starvation and a few other causes, during the hard winter of '55-56. The next summer many of the people dug segoes, pigweeds, and eat bran bread to keep their bodies and souls together until the next harvest. '55 was a severe grasshopper year. In 1856 many of the people of Lynne removed into Ogden City. The population of the place numbers about 300, who raise wheat, corn, barley oats, potatoes, squash and a variety of fine fruits.

OGDEN MINES.

It has been the custom of the miners rather to make fun of the claim that there are good mines around Ogden, but this has been owing to the want of professional or scientific skill displayed.

In the fall of 1877 some experienced miners and prospectors examined the hills and canyons, and being convinced the region was a mineral bearing country, explored with good success, and assays of ore found by them in "true fissure veins" exhibit rich treasures of both gold, silver and iron in abundance. The miners have organized the Weber Mining District, which includes Ogden, North Ogden and Huntsville, in Ogden Valley, and the following is a list of the mines now held and more or less developed and recorded in the records of W. M. District:

ally held by the legal amount of work done on them. There are also quarries of excellent slate, and two quarries of first-class sandstone for building purposes, within three or four miles of Ogden, and not difficult to get at, and at no distant day these deposits of iron, silver, gold, sandstone, slate, and probably coal, must make Ogden a great manufacturing and producing centre.

OGDEN IRON WORKS.

The Ogden Iron Manufacturing Company, the original owners of the blast furnace and other property, by bad management and improvident expenditure of money with other incidents common to companies in this era, failed, and the property having been sold, has at length come into the hands of "The Equitable Iron and Coal Company of Ogden," with W. G. Case President, George F. Brown Secretary, Jesse M. Langsdorf (of Guthrie & Co.) Treasurer and H. W. O. Margary Attorney. Capital, $250,000 in shares of $100 each. The Company's property consists of 30 acres of land, situated between the Central Pacific Railroad on the West and the Utah Northern Railroad on the East, both of which Railroads have side lines running to the works. The water power from the Ogden river is a very desirable site, the tail race of which cost $6,000. The blast furnace is nearly ready for active service, and besides the above, are the machinery for the rolling mills, safely stored away, also a goodly quantity of tools, etc. The rolling mills cost about $24,000 on the ground. The whole of the buildings and material on hand is worth fully $40,000, and could not be placed here for that sum. The water right, etc., would be cheap at $20,000, and thirty acres of land at $22,500 is a low estimate of value. The opinion of the President and also of every expert who has examined the Ogden iron ore is that it is as good as any in the world, and the only question is in regard to fuel, but as charcoal can be furnished at 12 cents per bushel, qualified authority says that first-class iron can be made at rates that will yield a handsome profit if the iron can be sold at a little less than cost and freight on that now imported. Some people say there is no demand, but the supply will in this case create the demand, and if castings are sold at reasonable rates, there will arise a demand, and the proprietors of the Iron Works will easily sell all they can make. The present head of the Company, Mr. W. G. Case, is well known in Pennsylvania as an iron furnace man, and thus we may expect the best results, and fairly anticipate that within a year the shares of the company will be in demand at a large advance, and that by this production many other manufacturers may be led to bring their business industries to Ogden and make it the Iron Centre of the West. Every one realizes the full importance of these works. In addition to giving employment to hundreds of men, they will also bring into market and make a means of revenue of resources which have lain dormant in the "everlasting hills" from the commencement of time or some other obscure period. The success of the "Equitable Iron Manufacturing Company," therefore, means the prosperity of Ogden and all the surrounding country.

Peery, Herrick & Co., Fourth Street, though not an old established firm, is a very solid one. It has good connections East, the proprietors are individually men of means, and generally accomplish what they undertake. Their city and country trade is large and increasing.

James Allen is well and favorably known in Ogden and throughout northern Utah. He keeps a large stock of assorted merchandise, and his terms are always reasonable; he has excellent assistance in the way of competent and obliging salesmen.

W. G. Child is one of the heaviest dealers in the country. His stock is very full and complete in all the various details of a mercantile house, and it is invariably kept up. He does an excellent business.

W. Foulger is a young and enterprising merchant, who has obtained an excellent standing among commercial men and the public generally, by strict attention to business. He keeps a good stock, and his sales are constantly increasing.

Pidcock & Sons, in the new brick block on the East side of Main Street, are well located and do a flourishing business, both in city and country trade.

Horrocks & Baxter have a general stock on the west side of Main Street. Samuel Horrocks, the senior partner, is an old and well-known citizen. He has an excellent and well-merited reputation for square dealing; the firm are prosperous and go-ahead merchants.

W. H. Wright & Son, two doors south of the Co-op, Main St., do a good business in general and family supplies. Mr. Wright has had an extensive experience, both as salesman and merchant; the firm keep a first-class stock of well-assorted dry goods, groceries, etc., always on hand.

Geo. H. Tribe has one of the most extensive and comprehensive stocks in Ogden, embracing everything likely to be wanted by the family, traveler, farmer, miner, etc., etc.

most variegated stocks in the western country, which he is constantly adding to and replenishing. He sells very cheap and does a rushing business.

Kuhn & Bro., east side of Main Street, keep constantly on hand a large stock of ladies' and gents' wear of every description. They also deal extensively in furs, pelts, etc., for which they pay the highest prices.

I. Marks, west side Main Street, does a general business in clothing of every description. He is well located and transacts a thriving trade.

BANKERS.

Guthrie & Co., Fourth Street, have the finest premises in the city. They are well established, transact a general banking business, make collections, etc. The resident partner, Mr. Langsdorf, is one of the "live" men of Ogden; he is foremost in all public enterprises looking to the general welfare, and is a deservedly popular citizen. The firm does a large business, and is thoroughly reliable.

Dooley & Co., east side Main Street, are the oldest banking firm in the northern country. They enjoy the confidence of the entire community and deserve it. Having recently purchased the property adjoining that which they now occupy on the north, they will shortly erect a magnificent building which will be a credit to themselves and the city.

GENERAL PRODUCE AND COMMISSION HOUSES, AGENCIES, ETC.

Sidney Stevens, Fifth Street, sells wagons, mowers, reapers, threshing machines and every description of farming implements. He does a very large business, and stands foremost among our business men.

FURNITURE DEALERS.

Boyle & Co., East side of Main Street, new brick block, have a very large and well selected stock, plain, elegant and medium, the prices of which cannot be beaten in Utah.

James Gale, west side Main Street, does an extensive business in general furniture. Like Mr. Boyle he was "burned out" on the 4th of last July, but both are on their feet again and prospering. Mr. Gale is one of our oldest citizens, and stands deservedly high.

HOTELS.

The Keeney House, at the Depot, is one of the most commodious and best appointed houses in this part of the country. The prices are always low, the accommodations first-class, and the establishment is so close to the stopping place of all trains that passengers find it convenient to call in and be refreshed before proceeding onward. An excellent bar on the premises.

The Commercial Hotel is the best and largest up-town hostelry in Ogden. It is justly celebrated for setting the best tables in the country; everything is neat, clean and orderly, and prices low. P. A. McPhee, Proprietor.

SHOEMAKERS.

E. J. Watkins, Fifth Street, is one of the most enterprising and liberal tradesmen in Ogden. His work is always done promptly and well.

THE PRESS.

The "Ogden Junction" was first issued on the 1st of January, 1870, as a semi-weekly, by a stock company called "The Ogden Publishing Company," composed of influential citizens. Hon. F. D. Richards was Editor, and C. W. Penrose, Esq., assistant Editor, but after a short time the latter gentleman became Editor-in-chief. The paper prospered, and in September, 1872, the publication of the Daily "Junction," in connection with the Semi-weekly, was commenced, both these editions having been continuously and uninterruptedly issued up to the present time.

In May, 1877, the entire establishment and all its business were purchased by Richard Ballantyne, Esq., of Ogden, the present proprietor. No changes were made in the working force excepting the editorship, to which Mr. S. A. Kenner, of Salt Lake City, succeeded. The policy of the paper has been substantially the same from the beginning until now—independent on all public questions, but prompt to champion or defend the tenets of the Church under whose auspices it was created. The daily is taken by nearly every family in Ogden; and the semi-weekly has a very large circulation throughout northern Utah—larger than that of all other papers combined. The price of the former is $8 per annum; of the latter $4.

The "Ogden Freeman," after having been published under the name of "The Frontier Index," in the ten terminal towns of the Union Pacific Railway, during the construction of the road, was destroyed by an enraged mob, at Bear River City, Nov. 20th, 1868, because, as is claimed by the proprietors, it was the medium which built up successively, Brownsville, Green River City and Bear River City, while a land ring was endeavoring to sell lots for rival towns at Benton, Bryan and Evanston.

The office was reduced to ashes, while its proprietors were working for the interests of western people. About three years ago its semi-weekly edition was revived here under the title of "The Ogden Freeman." The business has been vigorously pushed by Mr. and Mrs. Legh R. Freeman, until the circulation is stated to have reached 6,950, and through the energies of traveling canvassers we learn that its thrift has led the proprietors to contemplate the erection of a fire-proof brick building at the junction of the two principal streets of the city, where they have secured ample water facilities to operate their presses; and in the same building they will carry a stock of printers' and stationers' goods, comprising all that is necessary to make up a complete Paper Warehouse, from which sales will be made by sample throughout the vast region traversed by the agents of this house. They propose shortly to begin the publication of a daily.

The "Amateur" is a neat little bi-weekly publication, issued in the interest of the "Young Men's Mutual Improvement Association" of Ogden, the members of which alternate in the editorship, two numbers constituting a term. It is well edited and circulates gratuitously.

Ogden has had one other newspaper, the "Daily Telegraph," started by Mr. T. B. H. Stenhouse upon the arrival here of the Pacific railroad. It lasted but a few weeks and then retired from the field.

Newman, John Erikson and Julius Keissell, and has at present a membership of twenty-six, with the following officers: E. T. Hulaniski, N. G., George Thompson, V. G., A. B. Richardson, Secretary, M. Biel, Treasurer. This Lodge, although but one year old, has, through judicious management, a financial and social standing second to none in the Territory, and as financial condition is generally a sign of prosperity, we can safely assert that Union Lodge will be the Banner Lodge of Utah. Mr. D. Alexander is the real founder of this Lodge, and its prosperity is mainly due to him, as his watchful eye is constantly on the money.

THE R. W. GRAND LODGE OF UTAH

RELIGIOUS DENOMINATIONS AND SCHOOLS.

THE CHURCH OF JESUS CHRIST OF LATTER-DAY SAINTS

Holds regular meetings every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, in the Tabernacle, corner of Main and Second streets. The exercises are varied, the congregations being addressed by different Elders. Here is also held the quarterly Conference of "Weber Stake of Zion," of which Elder D. H. Peery is President, and Elders L. J. Herrick and C. F. Middleton are Counselors. Evening meetings, commencing at 6:30, are held in the various ward assembly rooms of the city; Sunday Schools are also held in these houses at 2 p. m.

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Holds regular meetings on Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7.30 p. m., at the corner of Young and Fourth Streets. This church has the finest building in the city but not the largest; it is built of stone and presents a very fine appearance. Sabbath School at 10 a. m. Rev. J. L. Gillogly, rector.

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

Is situated on Fifth Street, between Young and Franklin avenue. It is a frame building, but is roomy and neatly constructed. Services are held at 11 a. m., and 6:30 p. m.; Mass at 6 a. m.; Sabbath School at 9 a. m.—Sunday. Rev. Father Scanlan, pastor.

THE EDITORS OF "THE FREEMAN" are the same who published the Frontier Index on the famous "Press on Wheels" the first printing office that crossed the Missouri river above St. Louis, and the one which accompanied the Trans Continental railway during its construction Westward, publishing in the ten terminal towns.

As the anti-Mormon, anti-Chinese, anti-Indian organ of the New West, its publications are eagerly sought for and are the favorites with two millions of people.

It is the only paper between the Missouri river and the Pacific ocean, British Columbia and Mexico that is regularly canvassed for by traveling agents.

PLEASURE RESORTS.

Lying just north of Ogden river, but within the corporate limits of the city, are the finest pleasure resorts in the Territory—the Creator's first temples—groves, of tall, stately trees, with such heavy foliage as to completely exclude the rays of the sun, while the underbrush is thoroughly cleaned out, and seats, tables, dancing floors, etc., are provided, making the finest celebration or pic-nic grounds in the country. There are three of these and they are justly celebrated.

In summer time, Ogden Canyon is a very popular resort of the tourist and citizen; the scenery being grand and the trout fishing unequaled in any part of Utah.

TOWNS AND SETTLEMENTS OF WEBER CO.

HUNTSVILLE

Is situated in Ogden Valley, about twelve miles east of Ogden City. The townsite was surveyed in 1861, and the present population is about 1,000, mostly Scandinavians. It has a good rock meeting house, which is also used for school purposes; the log cabins built by the first settlers have given place to a considerable number of more respectable dwelling houses, mostly frame, but some brick, and also some rock. Ogden Valley is about twelve miles long by three miles wide; is bounded on the north, east, and west by mountains, covered by perpetual snow, and on the south by rolling hills, covered with bunch grass, giving excellent summer range for stock. It is watered by three branches of the Ogden river, called the South, Middle, and North Forks respectively. The bottom lands on these streams produce an abundant growth of native hay, and the upper or bench lands produce heavy crops of wheat, oats and barley, but owing to the high altitude of the valley, which is about 700 feet above Great Salt Lake valley, and the proximity of the snow-capped mountains, grain raising is very uncertain business, it being frequently injured by frosts, especially wheat and barley. Oats are more sure; potatoes do well generally; fruit raising has not been tried to any extent. The climate is healthy but cold, the winters being long. Snow covers the ground from the middle of November till the middle of April, and falls on the mountains from ten to thirty feet deep and in the valley from one to three feet deep. The summers are delightful, no place in all the mountains rivaling Ogden Valley as a summer resort. Quite a business is carried on during this season in the mountains, in lumber pickets, lath, shingles, ties, &c., which find a ready market in Ogden. Dairying is carried on to some extent; some cheese has been manufactured and preparations are being made to enter more extensively into the cheese business: The people keep considerable horned stock, which do well; they also have about 3,000 head of sheep.

Huntsville has a good day school of about 180 pupils, the principal teacher being Charles Wright. The advancement of the children will compare with any in the county or perhaps in the Territory. The Sunday School is large and well sustained, Charles Wright, Superintendent. All these institutions are fostered and encouraged by the personal attention of Bishop F. A. Hammond, who is ever on the alert and fully alive to everything looking to the present and future welfare of those under his care.

W. W. Brunson is Justice of the Peace, and E. Bingham Constable.

HOOPER CITY

Was first settled by Gilbert Belnap, Thos. Read, William Garner, Sen., (since deceased), John Everett, Henry Stone, W. E. Baker and Chas. Parker, in the spring of 1868.

The Hooper City Irrigation Company's canal was surveyed in 1867, by Jesse W. Fox, and work commenced in the same year. The cost of the canal to the present time is $100,750; it is seventeen and a half miles long, extending into Davis County, and irrigates 5,000 acres of land. Its average width is eighteen feet, and its average depth three and a-half feet, with a fall of twenty-nine inches to the mile. The officers of the Company consist of five trustees, a secretary and a treasurer, who hold office for one year, and are voted for at the annual election of County and Territorial officers. The names of the present trustees are—John Flinders, Charles Parker, Geo. Davis, Peter Munsee, Henry Manning; John R. Manning is Treasurer, and Henry B. Gwilliam Secretary.

Hooper has a steam grist mill, a Co-operative Mercantile Institution and one other store, a Social Hall, and a School House. Farming is the general occupation, and the quality of the wheat raised commands a premium. A vast amount of salt is manufactured by the process of evaporation from the water of the Great Salt Lake. Population, 925. The town was divided last year, the County line causing the division, hence there is Hooper in Weber County and Hooper in Davis County; but irrigation facilities cannot be divided. The farming land is laid out in half-mile square blocks with streets four rods wide, running parallel.

Town officers—Gilbert Belnap, Bishop; Charles Parker, First Counselor; John Flinders, Second Counselor. Emory W. Soule is Justice of the Peace, and Gilbert R. Belnap Constable.

UINTAH.

The town that is now known as Uintah was first settled in 1850, by the following heads of families: Daniel Smith, Henry Bexted, Louis Hardy, John Bybee, John Winwood and Joseph Hardy. It was organized ecclesiastically in the year 1852, as follows: Bishop, Abiah Wadsworth; Assistants, Ira N. Spaulding, B. Bybee, Sr.; Peace Officers: Justice of the Peace, B. Bybee, Sr.; Constable, H. Bexted. This settlement was known by the name of East Weber. The first school was opened in 1855. This town increased in numbers so fast that in 1857 it equipped four small companies of men to oppose what is known as Buchanan's Army, but it has never been so populous since the "move" of the Church the next season. The first Sunday School was organized in 1865, by Samuel Dye, and the first successful Library was put in circulation there in 1870 by the same person.

In the year 1869 a large town was formed adjoining the western portion of the already settled town; the new settlers being store-keepers, saloon keepers and others who had been the inhabitants of transient railway towns. The U. P. R. R. built passenger stations and also a large freight depot, from which all freight was shipped by teams for Salt Lake City and all points South, until the opening of the Utah Central railroad and its junction at Ogden with the U.

P. R. R. and C. P. R. R. During the year of the opening of the U. P. R. R. a post office was opened here which has since remained. Uintah is the first settlement in Salt Lake Valley that meets the eye of the traveler coming from the East; it is situated on the north side of the Weber river, and in the summer season presents a beautiful appearance to the traveler, on account of its beautiful orchards and well laid out and highly cultivated gardens, quite a number of the inhabitants sustaining their families by raising garden produce, for which there is a great demand to supply the several railroad towns east of this station. Uintah is also plentifully supplied with water, perhaps in this respect superior to any other town in Utah. There is one large mountain stream with several smaller ones; also two canals from the Weber river. Uintah is considered a very healthy settlement and is very desirable for residences, but building sites are very high in price. The town has two stores, a post office and three grain and produce shipping houses, namely: Charles De la Baume, Corey Bros., and Samuel Dye.

The present Ecclesiastical Officials are as follows: Bishop, Ira N. Spaulding; Assistants, Samuel Dye, Robert Gale; Peace Officers; Justice of the Peace, George L. Corey; Constable, Warren Corey; Road Supervisor, Samuel Dye; School Trustees, George L. Corey, Miles Laurence, Robert Gale. The present population is about 200.

RIVERDALE.

This place was first settled in the year 1851, and the present population is 211. The ecclesiastical officers are Sanford Bingham, Bishop; John C. Thompson, First Counselor, and Wm. Stimpson, Second Counselor. Peace officers—Richard Dye, Justice of the Peace; John C. Child, Constable.

There is one good School House and a first-rate school; there is a good grist mill here, owned by Hon. John Taylor; there are some fine farm houses and other improvements; as a general thing the soil is of a sandy loam and produces from twenty to sixty-five bushels of

Is six miles northwest of Ogden. It is a lowland country, thoroughly watered. There is some rich bottom lands—but also some poor land, containing much saleratus and alkali. Below the village is a rich and extensive stock range. It was first settled in 1852, and now contains a population of about 400, mostly farmers. They raise all they need for their own and their cattle's comfort, and are comparatively independent. Their school is well attended. John A. Allred, Bishop.

SOUTH WEBER

Is five miles south of Ogden, and nestles in a beautiful, romantic little valley. Its rich farming land is watered by the Weber river, and yields its husbandmen abundant harvests of bread, milk, meat, vegetables and fruit. It was first settled in 1852. The population number about one hundred and fifty, who are honest, industrious, contented and happy. David S. Cook, Bishop.

[This settlement is on the Davis County side of Weber river, i. e., the south side, but is inserted here because of its contiguity to Ogden.—PUBLISHERS.]

HARRISVILLE

Is six miles north of Ogden, and contains a population of over 500. The inhabitants are widely scattered and reside chiefly on their farms. The lands are of a light loam, but the bottoms are rich meadows and pastures. Besides grain, etc., they raise large quantities of lucerne. They have many orchards which contain great varieties of fruit bearing trees. First settled in 1852. P. G. Taylor, Bishop.

ALMA (West Weber)

Is a much scattered village, eight miles west of Ogden. The population is over 300. It was first settled in 1861. Like many other places it has been wrested from the occupancy of the sage brush and greasewood, which have given place to smiling fields and pleasant orchards, whose annual productions now reward the people for the years of industry and hard labor they have spent upon the land to rescue it from its former sterility. It produces some of the finest apples, pears and strawberries raised in the country. They have a school in session, well filled by willing scholars instructed by an efficient teacher. John I. Hart, Bishop.

MARRIOTT'S

Was settled by a small colony, mostly English agriculturists, who, by their honest industry, have made themselves comfortable homes. They sow and cultivate good farms and gardens, and possess a considerable number of stock and sheep. They are frugal, economical and steady in their habits. They raise all they need and have a surplus for market. The place was first settled in 1861. Population about 200. James Richie, Bishop.

PLAIN CITY

Is located ten miles northwest of Ogden and was first settled in 1859 by a company of hardy and determined people, most of whom removed there from Lehi, in Utah Co. It cost them many hardships to subdue and redeem the land from its then barren and sterile condition. It required several miles of canal to be built to furnish water for irrigation, but by their perseverance and industry they have built up a beautiful city of the plains. They have numerous well cultivated fields, farms, gardens and orchards, which yield, besides grain and hay, some of the richest varieties of vegetables and fruits in quality and quantity that are furnished for this market and for exportation. They are now reaping the well-merited reward of their labors. They have good public buildings and a good school, well attended. Population, 600. L. W. Shurtliff, Bishop; John Spiers, Justice of the Peace.

NORTH OGDEN

Is located in a little basin or hollow at the foot of the mountains, seven miles north of this city. It was first settled in 1850, by a few families who first came to this country with the main body of the emigrants. It now contains a population of about two thousand, chiefly agriculturists. Their land is of excellent quality and yields good crops of all kinds of grain, hay, vegetables, fruits, &c. They have a tannery and three substantial School Houses; the schools are well attended, some 300 scholars altogether being taught by Lorenzo Waldram, Thos. Paine and Jesse P. Read respectively. There is but one mercantile establishment, but it contains a very large and well-selected stock of goods, and is owned by Mr. Sidney Stevens, who also keeps a large establishment in Ogden.

Town authorities: Amos Maycock, Bishop; B. Cazier first, and N. Montgomery second counselor; C. H. Wheelock, justice of the peace; R. T. Barratt, constable.

EDEN

Is located in the north end of Ogden Valley. It was first settled in 1863; the population is 250. The people are farmers, stock raisers, loggers and lumbermen. Wood for fuel is plentiful, and the citizens in the spring and summer bring great quantities to Ogden for sale. In the winter they are sometimes snowbound and cannot get to Ogden. The town has a good school, well attended. Josiah Ferrin, Bishop.

The Utah and Northern Railroad was originally projected by John W. Young. Organized on August 23d, 1871, for fifty years, with a capital stock of $2,000,000. The first Board of Directors were J. W. Young, of Salt Lake City; Joseph Richardson, New York; Legrand Lockwood, New York; Wm. B. Preston, Logan, Utah; Heseekiah Thatcher, Logan, Utah; O. N. Liljenquist, Hyrum, Utah; Wm. Maughan, Wellsville, Utah; Lorenzo Snow, Brigham City, Utah; F. D. Richards, Ogden City, Utah; Lorenzo H. Hatch, Franklin, Idaho; M. W. Merrill, Richmond, Utah; Samuel Roskelley, Smithfield, Utah; Wm. Hyde, Hyde Park, Utah. Grade was first made near Brigham City, in August, 1871, and, at many points on the survey, the work was commenced about the same time. The first rails were laid near Brigham City, Box Elder County, in March, 1872. And cars were run from Brigham junction to Logan on Feb. 1st, 1875.

Grading commenced at Ogden in September, 1873, and the rails were joined near the residence of George Marsh, south of Willard, in January, 1874. On the 22d of May, 1874, the first train of (10) cars, flats, covered with tarpaulins, left Ogden for Franklin city, Idaho, loaded with merchandise for Montana. This train barely escaped being burned on account of being exposed to sparks falling on the open cars.

The Railroad will be sold March 20th, 1878, when its title will change from "Utah Northern" to "Utah and Northern." The following are the Board of Directors: Jay Gould, Sidney Dillon, Joseph Richardson, John Sharp, President; M. Thatcher, Secretary; Legrand Young, William Jennings; John Sharp, Treasurer. The sale was the result of a bargain or agreement on the part of the new company to extend the Railroad 96 miles north of Franklin, to Snake river. The terms of the contract are already agreed to, arrangements are made, the contract is assigned and the "Extension" will be prosecuted at once.

WILLARD.

After passing the Weber County line, Willard is the first settlement the traveler reaches. It is situated on an elevation of land on the line of the U. N. R. R., about fifteen miles north of Ogden City, at an altitude of 4,350 feet above sea level.

In the Spring of 1851, Messrs. Wells and Harding with their families, commenced a settlement here, known as North Willow Creek. The following year, other families having arrived, Charles W. Hubbard was appointed Bishop of the place. In 1859 the name of the settlement was changed to Willard City, in honor of Pres. Willard Richards, deceased.

By an act of the Legislature, approved Feb. 16th, 1870, incorporating Willard City, and notice being given to that effect by the Probate Judge of Box Elder County, an election was held on the second Monday of June, 1870. George W. Ward was elected Mayor, Alfred Ward City Recorder, and five Councilors and two Aldermen were chosen. The City Council met from time to time, framed city ordinances, etc., but owing to adverse feelings manifested by some of the citizens, no more elections were held, and the city government perished by the law of limitation.

The Precinct now numbers about 120 families and 710 souls. Geo. W. Ward is Bishop, Geo. Facer and Abraham Zundel his counselors; F. W. Brewerton, Justice of the Peace; Joseph Jones, Constable. The principal occupation is agriculture; several of the residents have ranches for cattle on the Promontory and other portions of the county. A co-operation is formed for mercantile business, and another, which owns about 1,000 head of sheep, a lumber and shingle mill, threshing machine, etc.

Willard City has an excellent location, the scenery in the mountains being decidedly grand. The people are generally very healthy, and the prospects are that, although Willard may not become a large town, it will continue to be a flourishing settlement. It is destined at an early date to become a summer resort for pleasure and health seekers, as there are good bathing places in Salt Lake, a short distance from the town. About three miles south there is a remarkable mineral spring, said to contain healing qualities for invalids. At Willard water is good, provisions cheap, fruit plentiful, and prospect romantic, with the C. P. R. R. running through the west part of the settlement and skirting the shore of Great Salt Lake.

county, seven miles north of Willard. It is one of the handsomest and best situated towns in the Territory, occupying a portion of the "bench" land east of Great Salt Lake, and near the mouth of Box Elder and Wellsville Canyon. It is filled with shade and fruit trees, and in the late Spring, or through the Summer and early Autumn, presents a very beautiful appearance. Population about 2,500.

William Davis, James Brooks and Thomas Pierce arrived on the ground March 11th, 1851, and settled as the first settlers; a number of families soon followed and a fort was built, called Box Elder, deriving its name from Box Elder Creek. William Davis was the first presiding officer appointed; he acted as President in the first place and was afterwards ordained a Bishop. Box Elder was then embraced in Weber County, the "stake" of which was presided over by Loris Farr. Lorenzo Snow, of the Twelve Apostles, was sent here and arrived in the Spring of 1855, and appointed to preside over the settlement, with J. C. Wright and Samuel Smith as Counselors, and Eli H. Pierce was at the same time or soon afterwards assigned to the Bishopric. The place was then named Brigham City, in honor of Pres. Brigham Young. In the same year the people commenced to move out from the fort and build houses on their city lots; the first two houses on the townsite were erected by J. D. Rees and H. P. Jensen, and were respectable adobe houses. Box Elder County was organized in 1856. The first Probate Judge was J. C. Wright; J. D. Rees, D. Harding and A. Nichols, Selectmen; A. Cordon, Prosecuting Attorney; Joseph Grover, Sheriff; Eli H. Pierce, Assessor and Collector. The present Judge is Samuel Smith; Selectmen, Geo. W. Ward, W. L. Watkins and James Pett; Prosecuting Attorney, A. Christensen; Sheriff, John D. Burt; Assessor and Collector, M. D. Rosenbaum. The Court House was founded in 1856. Brigham City was incorporated in the year 1867; Chester Loveland elected Mayor; A. Nichols, M. P. Jensen, A. Madsen, J. C. Wixom and William Box, Councilors; W. L. Watkins, Recorder; (by appointment.) J. D. Rees is now Mayor; A. Nichols, H. P. Jensen, E. A. Box, A. Christensen and Lucius A. Snow, Councilors; A. Christensen, Recorder.

The Co-operative mercantile business was commenced here in the fall of 1865 by Lorenzo Snow, Samuel Smith, Alvin Nichols and William C. Thomas; a large number of shareholders were soon afterwards added to the firm, which flourished in business, and by its proceeds mainly a large tannery was built, which was begun in 1869. The business of the firm was greatly increased in the year 1870 by the building of a woolen factory, the total cost of which was about $40 000. A dairy was established in 1871 in the vicinity of Bear river, near Hampton's Bridge, which has done a very profitable business. A larger building has been erected near the Box Elder for a boot and shoe establishment, harness, hattery and brushmaking, in which building between fifty and sixty men may work in the various departments. The name of the institution, which is incorporated according to law, is Brigham City Mercantile and Manufacturing Association. It has about 600 shareholders. Its object is improvement and progress, and the creating of many home industries whereby profitable employment may be given to all who are willing to work in order to live and better their condition. Very many branches of home manufacture are in successful operation. To supply and keep the woolen mills running the company has 6,000 sheep and a good cotton farm in the sunny south. L. Snow is the President of the firm. J. C. Wright, S. Smith, A. Nichols, Geo. W. Ward, H. P. Jensen, A. Hunsucker and John D. Rees, Directors; W. L. Watkins, Secretary.

CORINNE.

Corinne, called by many the "burg on the Bear," was settled in February, 1869. A number of Gentiles who had found their way into the Territory and spent a portion of the winter at Salt Lake City, wandered to the west bank of Bear river, in Box Elder county, took a survey of the magnificent valley that lay stretched out before them, and concluding that here would be the point of crossing of the Pacific Railroad, camped and commenced the work of building a city. The land was secured, and a contract made with the U. P. R. R. Co. to survey and lay out the town, giving alternate lots for compensation. After concluding this contract the townsite company felt that fortune and fame were theirs. With so powerful a corporation as joint owners with them in a town located on the line of their road, and a location commanding the trade of Montana and Idaho, accessible to the largest and most fertile agricultural districts of our own Territory, why should they not hope for success? More than 300 lots were disposed of at prices ranging from $5 to $1,000 each. In the two weeks following, more than 300 frame buildings and tents were put up, the town containing at this time more than 1,500 inhabitants; a temporary city government was organized with mayor, council and police force. On the 18th of February, 1870, the Legislative Assembly of Utah incorporated the town under the name of "Corinne City," the charter granting the necessary powers to enable the council to protect citizens.

The fortunes of the town have been vacillating. Depending principally upon freighting to Montana and Idaho as its means of maintenance, it has received a hard blow in the extension northward of the Utah and Northern Railroad. It is not lacking in enterprising, public-spirited citizens, who have ever been willing to do everything in their power to make the place a business centre. The present population is about 600, though it was once perhaps four times as much. It has three fine churches, one public and one private school, and a public hall.

LOGAN.

Across the valley from Mendon, in a northeasterly direction, and ten miles distant by the railroad line, is the beautiful and thrifty town of Logan. The first settlers came to this locality from Smithfield, June 21st, 1859. On July 3d, John P. Wright, John Nelson and Israel J. Clark got lots ready, and the first drawing for pieces of land was done, about twenty families being prominent on the occasion; and by the close of 1859, forty families were on the ground. The present population is about 4 000.

One of the most prominent features of the City of Logan is the magnificent temple being erected by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, ground for which was broken on the 15th of May, 1877, and the corner stones were laid on the 17th of September following. The main building is 103 by 79 feet, inside; has two large towers, one in the centre at the east end extending 30 feet square at its base, and 155 feet to the top of its dome; the other on the west is 12 feet lower. On the north and south sides of these towers, touching them and the main building, are four octagon stair cases, two on the east 102 feet in height, and two on the west 98 feet in height. The extreme length and breadth of the main building, including towers and buttress, is 171 by 95 feet; height to top of battlements on side walls, 86 feet. Extending out to the north 104 feet is a building for convenience, 86x88 feet, and 22 feet high to top of battlements; has an octagon tower at the north end 54 feet in height. This extension is divided into four apartments, as follows: engine room, kitchen, dining and reception rooms, all connected with the main building by a long hall. The main body of this extension is built even to the placing of its rafters. The foundation of the main building is also a few inches above the ground. The design is original, embracing none of the particular orders of architecture. The entire amount of rock to be used in completing the whole structure is about 264,224 cubic feet. There will be but little cut stone, that used being only for sills, caps, etc.

Another edifice for public worship is the beautiful and commodious Tabernacle, which is 65½x125½ feet, centrally located and of splendid architectural design. It is entirely of stone.

The "United Order" Foundry of Logan is one of the prominent institutions of Northern Utah. It contains two lathes run by water power, the largest of which was made there. They are making a large press drill which will weigh 1,600 pounds, made entirely from scrap iron. The wheel which runs the wind apparatus of the blast furnace and forges makes 1,500 revolutions per minute. It employs four first-class machinists, one apprentice, four good blacksmiths, two good apprentices, two good moulders, one furnace hand, one carriage maker, one frame builder for mills, one superintendent, one secretary. Joseph Wilson is foreman. No other similarly conducted and organized concern is to be found in Utah.

The "United Order Manufacturing and Building Co.," of Logan, was organized and incorporated under the laws of the Territory, January 8th, 1876, with a capital stock of $15,000 subscribed and $10,000 paid up in shares of five dollars each. Its officers are, H. Ballard, President; P. N. Peterson, Vice-president; C. O. Card, Charles Nibley and J. M. Wright, Directors; the five in all constituting a Board of Directors. J. E. Hyde, Secretary; C. W. Card, Treasurer, and C. O. Card as general Business Manager. The property paid into the corporation consisted of a saw, lath and shingle mill, formerly owned by Card & Son, and a planing mill of which Peterson & Sons were the proprietors. During the first year the Company prospered very well, paying a dividend of twenty per cent. on the capital stock invested. In 1877 the company added to its already valuable property, over $3,200 worth of improvements, consisting of a large carpenter shop, 24x36x18. Bought land in the central part of Logan City and built a store 20x48, and filled it with home-made and other merchandise. Also bought land and built an office upon it for the Company's use, near its mills. Constructed a boom, at a cost of $412, in the Logan river, for the purpose of catching wood, ties, logs, etc. It also connected to the Company during this year a co-operative dairy, at a cost of $1,335, consisting of land, ADDENDA.

Among the enterprises on which Ogden may feel to congratulate itself, is the Utah Vinegar Factory of Messrs. Rother & Richards. The works are situated in the south-western border of the City, on the Union Pacific Railroad, which is a great convenience to the proprietors, shipments being attended with less inconvenience than formerly. The machinery is very complete and extensive. No impurities of any nature are permitted to enter into their articles, and the large sales constantly being made to dealers throughout the entire Rocky Mountain region attest their popularity.

The Union Depot Hotel, directly in front of which all eastern and western trains stop, is a well conducted and popular institution. The proprietor, Mr. M. H. Beardsley, is an experienced hotel keeper; his tables are always set out with the best edibles that can be procured here or elsewhere, the beds are clean, the rooms well aired, and terms very reasonable.

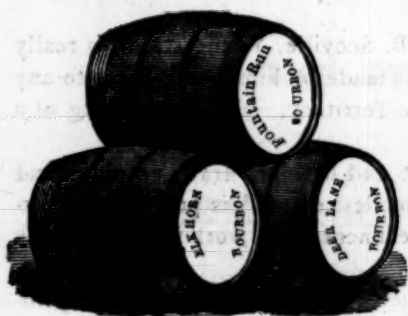

The Pioneer Livery Stables of Ogden are kept by Messrs. Carroll & Dee, both thorough and experienced in that line of business. Their accommodations for stabling are ample; good horses and vehicles are always on hand, and prices are moderate. The stables are located on Main street, opposite Walker Bros' store.

Mr. Barnard White is a manufacturer of and dealer in sash, doors, blinds, and a dealer in window glass, lath, shingles, &c. He keeps a large establishment on Fourth street, and in addition to being a thorough business man and a reliable dealer, is one of our oldest and most highly respected citizens. He is doing his share towards building up Ogden as well as himself.

The principal tin, iron and copper ware traffic of Ogden is carried on by Messrs. H. J. Newman and Robert Baird, both on Main street. They keep the best and most improved machinery and stock, are first-class workmen, and can safely guarantee to give satisfaction to their patrons.

SCHLESINGER & Co.,

The broom factory of Mr. H. B. Scoville, Young street, is really a first-class institution, the brooms made by him being equal to any imported or made elsewhere in the Territory. He is deserving of a liberal patronage.

Mr. G. G. Griffith, millwright and builder, draws up plans and specifications, with estimates when desired, and is prepared to furnish material in any amount. Specimens of his work in Ogden speak for themselves.

Mr. Joseph J. Jackson, contractor and builder, keeps the principal brick and tile yard in the city. All orders will be promptly attended to and the best of work and materials may be relied upon.

One of the best stone masons in the Territory is Mr. D. J. Doyle. Specimens of his work can be seen anywhere in the city, and once to see is to be convinced.

The only bakeries in the city are those of Messrs. J. H. Stinger and Jesse Field. Better bread, cakes or confectionery are not made and cannot be found in the Territory. The former is located on Fifth, the latter on Main street.

The fine flouring mills of Mr. D. H. Peery, north of Ogden river, are among the largest in the western country, and produce splendid articles in great abundance. They are supplied with all the latest improvements in milling machinery, and have a capacity equal to all demands.
